Dear Brothers in Christ,

I continue to labor out of bounds at Reformed Theological Seminary Jackson, serving as an assistant professor of practical theology, dean of students, and dean of chapel. Lynne and I thoroughly enjoy being part of seminary life.

Most Sundays I have taught Sunday School at FPC Jackson (since October) and/or preached at churches in Tennessee, South Carolina, and Mississippi, including serving as pulpit supply at Pinehaven June 14-August 2. Last August I lectured in pastoral theology for a week at the Andrew Jumper Center in São Paulo, Brazil. Pending Presbytery approval, I will become stated supply in August at First Presbyterian Church in Yazoo City.

Please stop by and visit me at the seminary. I would love to share with you about our work. I am grateful to be part of Mississippi Valley Presbytery, and take delight in the fellowship of the brothers.

Yours,

Charlie
