

Annual Summary Report
To Mississippi Valley Presbytery
May 2017 (for June 2016 – May 2017)
Robert C. (Ric) Cannada, Jr.

Ministry through Reformed Theological Seminary

- Met with Ligon Duncan, Chancellor of RTS, at least monthly to give counsel/advice on RTS
- Contacted in person or by phone a number of RTS donors and prospective donors
- Participated in RTS Donor events and Board meetings
- Represented RTS at the EPC General Assembly in June 2016
- Missed the PCA GA in June 2016 because the PCA and EPC Assemblies overlapped; I plan to attend the PCA GA in June 2017.
- Missed the MVP meetings in August and November 2016 and in February 2017 because I was in Indonesia each time. Excused. I plan to attend the MVP meeting on August 1, 2017, Lord willing.
- Missed the MVP meeting in May 2017 at Belhaven because I was at the Mayo Clinic for medical tests and evaluation. Excused.

Ministry through Karawaci Presbyterian Church and the YPPH Foundation in Indonesia

- Made 5 trips to Indonesia from June 2016 through June 2017 – June, August, October/November, December, and February.

KPC as an evangelist under MVP

- Continued to strengthen a PCA-type church and denomination that is still in mission status with members but no officers yet – The confessional statement is the same as the PCA; the BCO is an adapted version of the PCA BCO.
- Continued to strengthen the large daughter church in Manado, in the eastern area of Indonesia, called Christ Chapel Manado. Ligon Duncan preached there in September.
- Preached on Sunday mornings either in KPC or in Manado at least 2 or 3 times on each trip to Indonesia. At KPC we now have 3 Sunday morning services attended by @ 2000 in the first university chapel service, @ 1200 in the second university chapel service, and @ 200-250 in the third international all-English KPC service. Christ Chapel Manado has @ 350 people in attendance. I supervised the preachers, order of worship, etc. for the Sundays when I was not in Indonesia for KPC, the University chapel services, and Christ Chapel Manado. Ligon Duncan preached at KPC and the university chapel services in September.

- Taught an Inquirer's Class for new members three times.
- Received over 30 more new members and baptized one of them on profession of faith, along with several infant/child baptisms
- Officiated at four communion services for the KPC English congregation and 2 for the university chapel.
- Led weekly meetings of a temporary group operating as a kind of "session" under my authority as evangelist, composed of a PCA ruling elder, Niel Nielson, and an ordained EPC teaching elder, Mitchell Moore; recorded and approved minutes of each meeting.
- Met individually and counselled with a number of the members and prospective members of KPC

YPPH Educational Foundation

- Taught, in person or by teleconference, principles of Reformed theology to @ 15 people monthly who are the leadership of the foundation, the university, and the school system with which I work in Indonesia
- On each trip to Indonesia, taught in person principles of Reformed theology to @ 25 people who are the lecturers in theology and Bible at the university
- On each trip to Indonesia, met as an advisor/consultant with each member of the top leadership of the foundation and the university
- On each trip to Indonesia, preached once at the faculty and staff chapel at the university to @ 2500 people
- Regularly (averaging at least two per month) interviewed candidates for ministry in Indonesia to be sure they understood and were committed to Reformed theology.
